

CHATEAU DES JACQUES

FINE DE BOURGOGNE

2000

Vintage

At the time, this was the earliest vintage in 30 years. It began with a dry winter, followed by a warm, sunny spring with regular periods of rainfall. June and July were notable, too, for their mild temperatures and regular showers. August, on the other hand, was marked by high temperatures. Harvest, which began on 4 September, took place in conditions that were similar to those at the height of summer, with not a single drop of rain.

The perfect ripeness of the grapes led to the creation of wines that are both concentrated and full-bodied, all of which is suggestive of a vintage that will age well.
